81st Annual Bible Lectureship

The students, faculty and staff join me in welcoming you to Abilene Christian University's 81st Annual Bible Lectureship. This period of spiritual renewal is a very special highlight of the ACU year, and we are thrilled that you are a part of it.

This year's sessions will explore the very nature and true depth of God's plan for His children, both collectively and individually. Our speakers will remind us, challenge us, convict us – to confidently exemplify God's presence in a world constantly changing at breakneck speed. The periods of singing, prayer, praise and fellowship will uplift and rejuvenate us to new levels of faith and commitment to His service.

We also invite you to take advantage of every opportunity this Lectureship offers – the exhibits, the luncheons and dinners, and the special recognition services. Explore the campus, talk to our students and faculty, feel the excitement – be a part of this Kingdom experience!

President, Abilene Christian University

Welcome, Lectureship Guests!

Our Church Relations and Lectureship staff extend a warm greeting to you. Advance planning and preparation for this 81st Annual Bible Lectureship had YOU in mind – "regulars" as well as "first-timers." Your presence in Abilene and on the ACU campus this week marks one of the most important events occurring this year.

Merchants appreciate you for the economic impact you have on Abilene, and we love having you in classes and lectures and at special breakfast/luncheon/dinner meetings. The fellowship and inspirational messages we will share are comparable to a homecoming event.

Please register your attendance at one of the three Lectureship Central areas located in the McGlothlin Campus Center, the Biblical Studies Building and Scruggs Gymnasium with the exhibits. Tickets for ACU luncheons and dinners may be purchased only at the McGlothlin Campus Center on the day before the event. A limited supply of tickets will be available for sale at the door.

Free tickets to the Preachers-Elders-Deacons dinner also are available at Lectureship Central sites, but remember the dinners cost ACU. Please get your tickets by noon Tuesday and help us get an accurate count in order to conserve our expenses.

Again, welcome to our city and to ACU. May the Lord bless every session of Lectureship, and may He reaffirm our common hope in His presence with us now and in His ultimate coming.

"celebrating our heritage and hope"

Honoring Abilene Area Churches of Christ

A rich heritage and constant hope of all people serving Christ to the fullest runs deep in Abilene. Wednesday's closing session of the 81st Annual Bible Lectureship will recognize the Abilene congregations for their dedication to the Kingdom.

For 81 years, Abilenians have served as hosts for Christians from around the world. This session will pay tribute to a legacy of remarkable dedication and service.

Guest lecturer Jerry Rushford will stir the senses of biblical history, hope and servanthood as he addresses a grand Hebrews theme – "Surrounded by a Great Cloud of Witnesses."

Servants of 40 Abilene and area congregations will be seated in special sections in Moody Coliseum. A group photograph will capture some of the spirit of this occasion, and the legacies of Abilene Christians will be shared.

The Abilene focus will dissolve into a global spectrum as we celebrate our worldwide heritage and hope. We will sing great songs of praise and thanksgiving that focus on our common blessings in Christ.

Victor McCracken, a young minister who is building on our remarkable past, will speak of our heritage as a fellowship of united believers.

Our hope, in Abilene and throughout the world, will be strengthened by words from John C. Stevens, beloved for his decades of faithful service to the Lord's church and to Christian higher education.

Join the spirit-filled fellowship as 1999 gives way to the next century. Celebrate with others a mutual appreciation for God's amazing grace and the ties that bind us together in His kingdom.

"The ACU Lectures are one of the few forums left in the Churches of Christ where one can be exposed to a variety of viewpoints, all of which are presented with an attitude of love and respect for the brotherhood as a whole."

Why I Want to Preach

In a world where Christian morals and virtues seem to take a back seat to personal gain and desire, what's calling young men to preach the Gospel today?

Hear the testimonies of young men who are experiencing their first ministry opportunities share how God has worked in their lives and why they boldly proclaim the Gospel today.

During introductory segments of each evening session in Moody Coliseum, different young preachers will share their fire for the Lord as they tell their stories and how they were called.

Class format: Each class is presented on one day only and meets for three one-hour periods, beginning at 8:30 a.m., 11 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. New material is presented at each class hour unless otherwise noted.

Three days on Revelation

As the end of a century nears, millennium talk grows louder and louder. While speculations run rampant, what are Christians saying? What does the Bible say? Are you hearing the words of God over the words of man? Or is man leaving God out of the equation as one century ends and another begins.

Special afternoon studies in Matthew and Revelation have been designed to encourage a sense of order, responsible interpretation of the Scriptures and a worshipful attitude among men and women for God the creator.

While "millennium-mania" projects a multitude of fanciful thoughts, three God-fearing teachers with strong biblical integrity will guide you through a study void of man's mania.

BIBLICAL STUDIES BUILDING

"For 29 years, I have traveled to Abilene for the annual Lectureship from Iowa, Missouri and now California. Why all the effort? Christian people; being reminded that I am not alone; meeting Christians from all parts of the world; receiving biblical insights from skilled teachers; and returning to my local ministry encouraged by powerful preaching."

SPECIAL FEATURE

Marriage and Family Classes

It seems the values established by God through the Bible are under attack. Poor examples are being broadcast from every direction – from our nation's leaders to the mass media that penetrates our children. Too many messages tell us that doing wrong is OK as long as you don't get caught, and if you don't like your situation, you always have a way out. The holiness, strength and importance of marriage and the family have become a disposable commodity in today's world – and that goes against God's Word.

God-fearing Christians who have studied and experienced what it takes to have a strong, Christ-centered marriage and family will share personal testimonies and biblical truths people need to ground their families in God. People will share how they and their families have drawn closer to God and heightened the holiness of the family unit.

Others will present information about society today that, if ignored, could unravel the very fabric that binds your loved ones together as family. While this focus of information will offer opportunities for personal growth, it also will equip you to help other families draw closer to God.

Dinner for Preachers, Elders and Deacons

Join generations of preachers, elders and deacons to honor dedicated servants. Share experiences and stories that have been part of a master plan to further the Kingdom. This long-time tradition where more than 1,000 brethren share fellowship and glorify God will uplift and encourage all who attend.

Chris Smith will speak at the dinner this year, which will take place at the Hillcrest Church of Christ multi-purpose room.

WACU Dinner

Thinking of the many ways women can make a difference to the world around them, Dr. John Stevens, ACU chancellor emeritus, will share his perspective on the influences women have had on ACU through the years at the WACU Ladies Only Dinner.

The WACU Ladies Only Dinner, which runs concurrently with the Preachers-Elders-Deacons Dinner for men, provides women the chance to meet and fellowship together. The WACU dinner will take place in the new Margaret L. and William J. Teague Special Events Center.

See page 23 for more details on these dinners.

Evangelism Classes

The same Jesus who urged His disciples centuries earlier to "open your eyes, look at the field" (John 4:35) is still calling His church to develop a heart for souls. The saving message of the Lord is for everyone but time and opportunity will close the door when He returns.

The story of amazing grace is more than a rehearsal of gospel facts. The story is personal, beginning with the Lamb of God who came to bear our guilt, and then with our story of "I once was blind, but now I see." It is a daring story, fighting for attention in a sea of competing local, national and international news.

Jesus is still calling us, His church, to share the message that offers salvation to sinful souls. Through this focus on evangelism, learn what others do, be reminded of what we are commanded to do, and take home examples and ways to light the fires of evangelism in your home congregations. We hope to help more Christians spread the Gospel with rekindled fires.

Missions Classes

When your grandmother popped corn for you, she probably used a heavy pan on top of a hot stove, melted fresh butter and sprinkled just enough salt for you to enjoy the popcorn. Later, your mother made the same hot popcorn, but in an electric popcorn popper with a domed lid that doubled as a serving bowl. Today, you fix the same tasty popcorn for yourself, only you throw a flat package in a microwave and have a steaming bag of fresh popcorn in five minutes or less.

Like the tasty popcorn you've eaten all your life, the kernels of biblical truth for salvation have always been the same. And in the same way your popcorn came from the stove, then the electric popper, then the microwave, methods and preparations for spreading the Gospel to different mission fields have changed.

Church leaders from throughout the world have examined and re-examined the planning, preparation and implementation of mission efforts, and they will share what they've learned and what has brought the most glory to God.

New resources and new technologies also will be highlighted that are now available to enhance mission efforts of all kinds, and through it all, the spirit of spreading the Gospel, bringing others to Christ and growing strong churches will prevail.

Gene Linder, Abilene Coordinator
Biblical Studies Building 200 (Chapel on the Hill)

An aerial, black-and-white photograph of a modern courtyard. The courtyard features a paved walkway, several large potted plants, and a seating area with modern armchairs and a low table. A person is walking in the upper right, and three people are sitting at the table in the lower right, looking at books or papers. The architecture includes a building with a grid-like facade on the left and a low wall with a planter box on the right.

"As husband, father, minister and veteran missionary, I face constant challenges. ACU Lectureships help inspire the godly focus and balance I need to keep growing."
